Brooklynn, However, Win Three Straight from the Pittsburgs-Baltimores Take a Clos-Game from Chicago-Cincinnatis Successful

nt Washington-Quakers Double Victors. It was impossible to play ball at the Polo Grounds yesterday, so the New Yorks and Clevelands will meet in two games this afternoon. The heavy rain completely flooded the outfield, so that the water near the clubhouse was a foot deep. Left field to within a few yards of third base was a lake, and the big pond in right field made it necessary to improvise a sort of pontoon bridge in order to reach the open stand from the office steps. The drains were inadequate, and, as there was no way of drawing the water off, the double bill was declared off, and 2.000 persons who stood outside the gates were disappointed. The New York Club signed a contract with man last night who agreed to pump all of the water out before noon to-day. The grounds have never been flooded so completely before. Over in Brooklyn, however, the home team won three straight from Pittsburg. The Baltimores captured a close contest from the Chicagos, and fought a second battle to a draw. The Cincinnatis won at Washington, so that both the Orloles and the Reds gained a few points on the Bostons. Two vic ories by the Philadelphias over the St. Louis team placed the Quakers at the top of the sec-ond division. The Boston-Louisville game was prevented by rain. The results:

Brooklyn, 10; Pittsburg, 4. Haltimore, 3; Chleago, 2 (first game). Baltimore, 5; Chicago, 5 (second game). Cincinnati, 9; Washington, 6. Philadelphia, 14; St. Louis, 2 (second game)

Heavy batting was the rule in the game a Eastern Park yesterday, and while the Pitts burgs made two more hits than the home team Barnie's players won somewhat easily. In the first three innings the Smoky City aggregation managed to make some of their hits count, with the result that four runs were scored. In every inning thereafter Fisher was touched up for one or nore hits, but they all went to waste. The score:

HALTIMORE, S; CRICADO, 2.-FIRST GAME.

HALTIMORE, Aug. 24.—The champions and Chicagos played two hotly contested games to day, the Orioles winning one and tieing the other. The first was a pitcher's battle. Doyle won the game in the ninth inning by making a wonderful run from first base and scoring on a base hit. The second game the Colts had well in hand, knocking Fond out of the box in the third, but they could do nothing with Amole, who succeeded him. The champions had a batting rally in the fourth and eighth innings and overcame the lead. The score:

TEBRAU TALKS OF UMPIRES. The Cleveland Captain Says the Staff Har

Oliver Tebeau, manager of the Cleveland team, has borne a rather unsavory reputation in the past as a kicker against umpires and a riotous player on the field. Last year he was hauled before the League and was fined, but the Cleveland Club secured a permanent injunction restraining the League from collecting the fine. Tebeau has not figured much in the troubles of the ball field this year, and his players have behaved themselves quite respectably as compared to times in the past, when they were severely riticised for rowdylsm, notably at home. Off the field Tebeau is a quiet, cool, calculating chap, who knows baseball, and who can talk common sense. He is fearless in his expressions and is respected by his players. When THE SUN reporter asked him yesterday about the umpire problem he was ready to discuss the matter at ength. You can say for me that President Young never had a better staff of umpires, as far as competency goes, as at present," said Tebeau. We have had very little trouble with them be youd one or two little kicks in each game, which are inevitable. Lynch, Hurst, Emslie, and O'Day have umpired splendidly as far as I have seen, and McDonald has done well, too, Mc-Dermott is the only one who has not been up to the mark, in my estimation, and he is the only umpire to fine any of my players this year. He inflicted fines on Burkett and O'Connor in the very beginning of the season, and he was wrong in doing so. Young Carpenter, the new man, appears to be all right, and I hope he will turn ut a success. It is a hard matter to find good umpires, and President Young has done very rell, considering."

"What is the cause of all the trouble this year, if the umpires are all right ?" asked the re-

"Principally the crowds and some players who set them on to intimidate umpires," was the reply. "There is no use talking, the umpire loses his head sometimes and favors the home team if the crowd yells threateningly at him. In some cities, notably Cincinnati and Louisville, the crowds are urged to roast the umpires by the home players, who take advantage of popular backing to indulge in puglistic threats at the judge of play. In those towns it is a case of win, no matter how you do it, and the newspapers there are as much at fault as the patrons of the game.

"The impulse of the moment has a great deal to do with kicking. Players who do not stand up for their rights are not popular with the cranks, but I think myself that some of the outbreaks this year have been harmful. Whenever I kick, it is not my idea to bulldoze an umpire so that he will give me more than is coming to me. I simply want to know for my own benefit why he has made a certain ruling. When I have received the desired information that is enough for me. Of course, we come in contact with a thoroughly incompetent umpire sometimes, and then there is trouble.

"The bad language used by players on the field is not half so bad as that which we hear from some occupants of the bleacheries and the grand stand. It is an evil which provails in every city. But the greatest evil of all is the attempt on the part of spectators to rattle visiting teams. I'll acmit that it has been done in Cleveland as well as in other cities. It is a nuisance and does no good. Why, it is really laughable to watch a crowd from day to day rising up when the home team is at bat and yelling instructions to the players. Just because a pitcher gives a base on balls, the cranks really believe that they have succeeded in rattling him, and the cry goes up: 'He's up in the air' If these howlers knew how they waste their strength and broath yelling in such a senseliess manner they'd be ashamed of themselves.

"In order to wipe out these blotches on the good name of baseball, it is necessary for the magnates to listen to the newspapers which are against kicking and rowdyism. If the newspapers can put a stop to rowdylem among spectators, so that unupires and visiting players will receive a fair show in all the cities, I believe the existing troubles will be wiped out."

"Why is it that the Clevelands are not fighting for Temple Cup money this year t" Tebeau was asked.

"We do not blame the umpires or hard luck. Cuppy, who has been a star pitcher for us, has had a week arm all the season. If he had been "The bad language used by players on the

"We do not blame the umpires or hard luck. Cuppy, who has been a star pitcher for us, has had a weak arm all the season. If he had been in form I figure that we would have had at least twelve more victories to our credit. Then Young was not himself all the season, and Mc-Aleer's withdrawal was a setback which was not remedied until we secured Pickering. The fall of Sockalexis was the higgest disappointment. He started out like a wonder, but he soon became a victim to public flattery and began to dissipate. He cut his foot somewhere about the 1st of July, and instead of having it treated properly he put corn plasters on the cut. Blood poisoning set in, and he is at present in the hospital in Cleveland. Like all Indians, the sights in the big cities were too much for him. treated properly he put corn plasters on the cut. Blood poisoning set in, and he is at present in the hospital in Cleveland. Like all Indians, the sights in the big cities were too much for him.

"But to go back to the umpires a moment," Tebeau continued. "This man Wolf in Louisville is manifestly unfair. I do not for a moment doubt that he gave the New Yorks a raw deal, for he deliberately tried to deprive us of our rights when we went there to play. It was simply a case of trying to help his own townsmen to win, which is a blot on the Louisville Club's record. The trouble we had with the Philadelphia Club at home, with McGinty umpiring, was due to poor judgment on the part of the Philadelphia manager in not taking Fifield out of the box in time. Because he was wild and couldn't get the ball over the plate Stallings said that McGinty was unfair.

"I never allow one of my players to act as umpire, because of an experience I had early in the season. Wilson, one of my players to act as umpire, because of an experience I had early in the season. Wilson, one of my players to act as umpired one day, and because several of his decisions were against us, although they were correct, he was unfavorably criticised by certain people. Therefore, I resolved never to let a player umpire again. Pitcher Donahue of St. Louis umpired one day and gave all the close rulings to us, and gave them as he saw them, too, for which he was threatened with bodlly harm by the manager of the St. Louis team when he got into the bus with the players after the game. Therefore, I say that persons who do not want to see a man umpire on the level should be suppressed."

"I'm out!" said Patsy. "We can't win it. I'm sure. But you can say this much. We will go to Boston and win three out of four games just the game with the champions, but Hanlon wouldn't consent. It was to have been a game transferred from Cleveland."

"I'm say just telling The Sux man that the umpires this year are the beat Nick Young has ever had," said the Clevelande."

WOMEN PLAY CLEVER GOLF

THEIR CHAMPICNSHIP TOURNEY OPENS IN WRETCHED WEATHER. Miss Beatrix Boyt Maintains Mer Supremacy-

Remarkable Scoring by Miss Margarel Curtis, a Little Girl of Thirteen Years— The Competitors Sirted Down to Eight-MANCHESTER, Mass., Aug. 24.- In pitiless rain the women golfers who are to play for the championship of the United States Golf Association finished their round of eighteen holes at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The day was full of sur-prises, the most disagreeable of which was the weather. The rain drizzled a little in the morning, but as soon as play was started it fell in torrents and prevented the good scoring that would otherwise have resulted. The putting greens were slow, and, as part of the course is low, the golfers often found the ball nearly under water on the fair green.

The second surprise was in the fact that a score of 131 was good enough to qualify, although the rain would partly account for this. Still another surprise to many was the fact that Miss Beatrix Hoyt of Shinnecock Hills, the present champion, was at no time pressed for her honors, and yet another circumstance, which in a measure eclipsed Miss Hoyt's triumphant entry into national golf, was the score made by little Margaret Curtis of the Essex County Club. She is only 13 years of age. but she wielded the driver with su-perb skill, and her approaching was the admiration and envy of many of her older competitors. It was also worthy of note that Mrs. F. E. Zerrahn, who was within one of getting into the winning eight of last year's medal play, made a poor score, and did not hand in her card, while Mrs. William Shippen, who was in last year's eight, could do no better than 141 under the conditions to-day.

There was not a large attendance of golfers at There was not a large attendance of golfers at the club when the first pair started. A rift in the clouds at 10 o'clock gave some slight hope, and after half an hour's delay 200 or more golfers went to the first tee near the clubhouse to witness the opening drives. It speaks well for the pluck of the American women golfers that there was only one default on account of the weather. Mrs. Adams of the Onwentsia Club of Take Forest, Ili., Mrs. Charles S. Brown of Shinnecock Hills and Miss Mabel Boardman and Mrs. F. P. Spaulding of Essex county remaining out through indisposition. Miss Margaret Curtis took the place of Mrs. Brown and played with Mrs. E. Warren of the Country Club. Chairman Robert C. and at 12 o'clock when the last pair started the first couple were just coming up on their second round.

Naturally, the chief interest of the day was aroused by the play of Miss Hoyt, the champion of Shinnecock Hills, and Miss N. C. Sargent and Mrs. R. C. Hooper of Essex county, upon whom the local club rests its hopes of the championship. Miss Hoyt's work was of a high order. She made a splendid drive across the brook at the starting tee, and followed it with an equally fine shot over the bank. She made the sixth hole in four, which is good playing for any one, and on her second round did the second hole in the same number of strokes. She got in trouble with the brook hazard on the second round, and raised her first round score of six to ten for that hole. Miss Hoyt is perfectly self-possessed, and her swing was the admiration of all the club golfers. The directness of her stroke was amazing, but her approaching was not as good as that of Miss Sargent, while both lost badiy in putting on the wet greens. Miss Hoyt's first drive won a round of applause from the onlookers, who hoped to see her beaten, and she bowed her acknowledgments of the compliment. Her two rounds were in 51—57—108, which has not been beaten by any woman player on these links, and with fair weather she would probably have reduced that.

Miss Sargent, one of the club favorites, also made a pretty drive at the first tee on both rounds, and was heartly applanded. She made the first hole in six, like Miss Hoyt, but lost strokes in her putting, and on the cighth hole in the second round she drove into the bunker and mane a pretty drive at the first tee on both rounds, and was heartily applianced. She made the first hole in six, like Miss Hoyt, but lost strokes in her putting, and on the cighth hole in the second round she drove into the bunker and got a cuppy tee. There was no foothold for a good stroke, and with her mashie she barely got the ball out of the cup. A sliced bail on the next stroke went into the woods, and on the repetition of the stroke she pulled the ball out of direction. Comparing her score with that of Miss Hoyt it will be seen that she beat the champion on five holes and haived five. She made the fourth hole in four, which is the club bogey, and did not go into double figures once. She made the rounds in 54-60-114, which is not equal to her best mark. She was especially strong in approaching. Mrs. R. C. Hooper played a strong game, but by no means equal to her best. She drove splendidly and made some fine approach shots, but the hard rain told on her and she got in trouble at the sixteenth hole, which took ten strokes. Her rounds were made in 56-65-121, which is at least ten strokes above her fair-weather score. Little Miss Curtis, who was only one stroke behind Mrs. Hooper on the eighten holes, played a wonderful game for so soung a player, reminding all of Miss Hoy's brilliant performance at Morristown. She made two fours, one on the second hole and another on the sixth, and beat the champion on five holes, but she fell into trouble at the last hole on both rounds, and this just placed her out of reach of the medals which were offered for the best three scores in today's play. Her score was 61 on both rounds, and she was one of the few who kett her average in the downpour on the second round.

After the play to-day the drawing took place for the opening match play rounds to morrow. Miss Hoyt will he match will be made of After the play to-day the drawing took place for the opening match play rounds to morrow. Miss Host will meet Miss Curtis in this event, and the match will be one of great interest, although Miss Curtis does not expect to win against her formidable antagonist. Miss Sorgent plays againt Miss Herron of Cincinnati, and will doubtless win her match. Mrs. Hooper is drawn against Miss Griscom of the Merion Cricket Club of Philadelphia, and is also looked upon to win. The remaining match, between Miss E. C. Longworth of Cincinnati and Mrs. J. Warren Morrill of the Country Club, promises to be a close one.

match-play rounds. The duty of the scorers was even less pleasant than that of the players, for they lacked the excitement and warming-up exercise. The day was one of the most unpleasant that could be imagined for golf, and the wonder is not that the scores were as high as they were, but that so many of the women had the pluck to fight against the elements for eighteen holes.

GOLFERS WORRIED BY RAIN.

The Saratoga Tournament Opens Under Disheartening Weather Conditions. SARATOGA, Aug. 24.-The Saratoga golf tournament opened this morning under the most unfavorable weather conditions. A heavy rainstorm came up during the night, and by the time the golfers arrived at the links the grounds were thoroughly soaked and almost unfit to play on. In fact, most of the bunkers were play on. In fact, most of the bunkers were knee deep in water. Under such circumstances and with the rain continuing, all but the most hardened of the golfers kept was from the course. As a result only eighteen of the forty entries put in an appearance, and the Greens Committee was forced to reduce the qualifying number for the United States Hotel Cup from sixteen to eight. The scores were very good under the circumstances. The course is one of the longest nine-bole links in the United States, its total length in yards being 2,830, while the bogev score is 12. The following men qualified for the United States Hotel Cup:

Jasper Lynch, Lakewood, 93; S. D. Bowers, Otsego. States Hotel Cup:

Sale of Thoroughbred Stock at Sheepshead Bay. The first of the fall sales of thoroughbred yearlings began yesterday afternoon in the paddock opposite the Sheepshead Bay track before the races began. The lots offered were from the Hurricania Stud, the property of S. Sanford & Son, and the Elmendorf Stud, the property of C. J. Enright. The sale was well attended, and as the majority of the voungsters were good lookers, tair prices were realized. The top price of the sale was $1,800, at which a bay colt by Laureste—La Tosca was knocked down to J. A. Bennett. A partial summary follows: PROPERTY OF THE HURRICANIA STUD.

The Board of Consuls of the L. A. W. will hold a meeting in this city to-night.

The annual business meeting of the New Jersey division of the L. A. W. was held in Newark on Monday night. The reports of the various commuttees showed that the division is strong both financially and numerically. The membership was reported at 6.280, as against less than 5,000 last year. The report of the Treasurer estimated the total receipts of the year as $5.668.54, against expenditures of $3.896.67. It was deemed advisable for the officers of the division to inaugurate some method of increasing the membership. A new Road Book Committee, consisting of J. C. Tattersall, Trenton; W. B. Rudderson, Merchantville, and J. Salisbury of Arlington, was appointed. Sunday Games of the Pastime A. C. Ferbidden It is not so very long ago since the officers of the Pastime A.
